CHILD MORTALITY IN SUMMER

Every summer the newspapers are full of horrifying stories of the death list among infants and children and extremely old people. In nursing infants and children still being fed largely on milk this is usually due to the quality of the milk itself, and in aged people to a general weakening of the system because of extreme heat. Still, a great many of the deaths are due to digestive trouble, and these can usually be avoided by the timely use of a reliable laxative-tonic. There is no remedy for this purpose that lends itself better to the uses of children and aged people than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which for a generation has been the reliance of thousands of mothers and which is gaining in favor every year. This remedy, unlike a purgative, salt, laxative water or "infant medicine," contains nothing that is dangerous to the health of the weakest or youngest person, and its repeated use does not form a habit, as is the case with narcotic remedies for children. Go to your druggist this very day and buy a 50 cent or $1.00 bottle, and like thousands of other parents, keep it on hand for an emergency. You can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE by addressing

HAS BOUGHT FARM AND WIFE JOINS HIM

Amishman Who Was Excommunicated Because He Carried Insurance on Barn.

Decatur, Ind., Sept. 6.—George Pallle, the apostate Amishman, who fell from grace in the church because he insured his barn, which was contrary to its teachings, and collected therefor the insurance money, when the barn was burned a year or two ago, has purchased a forty-acre tract of land in Blue Creek township where he is now living.

His wife, who, it is said, was advised by the church board not to live with her so-called fallen husband, lest she too be in danger of the warm punishment which they believed would be meted out to him in the hereafter, is said to be now living with him on their little farm in Blue Creek township. So it seems that the matter of long standing has been amicably adjusted in some way instead of breaking up what was, before this difference in religious views, a happy family.

BUG IN WOMAN'S EAR.

Miss Lillie Smith, of Hartford City, Has Frightful Experience.

Hartford City, Ind., Sept. 6.—While sitting on the porch of the Harry Worley residence on East Franklin street, a bug suddenly flew in the ear of Miss Lillie Smith and crawled far up into the head. Unable to remove the insect, Miss Smith became much alarmed and grew sick and dizzy from the sensation caused by the live bug in her head. She was taken in the Worley home where Mrs. Worley took some cold water and poured it in the ear. It at once crawled out, being unable to survive in the water.

THREE MILES OF PAVEMENT

Will Be Completed in Warsaw by First of October.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 6.—Fort Wayne street and Fort Wayne avenue will be completed and ready for use by October 1, according to the positive assertion of J. J. Kelleher, who has the contract for the laying of more than three miles of brick pavement in Warsaw. He also states that with ordinary weather all the pavement north of Center street will be completed before winter sets in, when work must stop. This will include Main street from Hickory to Buffalo; Lake street from Main to the north end, and all the cross streets between Main and Center streets.

NEW PASTOR AT HUNTINGTON

Was Installed by Rev. Wambsganss, of Fort Wayne.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 6.—Rev. F. V. Husmann, who came here from Berea, Ohio, was installed as pastor of the German Lutheran church Sunday morning before a large audience which taxed the capacity of the auditorium. Rev. Ph. Wambsganss, of Fort Wayne, officiated and the ceremony was impressive. Rev. Wambsganss delivered a sermon in which he outlined the duties of the pastor to the people and of the people to the pastor. His remarks were pertinent and well received. Rev. Husmann will preach his first sermon next Sunday morning.

WAS FOUND STARVING.

Lay Helpless for Six Days From Stroke of Paralysis.

Logansport, Ind., Sept. 6.—Lying on his face in a small stream running through a grove north of the city, Wesley Irvin, inmate of the county poor farm, was found by some boys last evening. Irvin had been lying in the grove since last Monday and when found was almost dead of starvation. He sustained a stroke of paralysis while returning from the city and lay helpless and starving within sight of houses a block distant. He was brought to this city and placed under a physician's care.

NO PRISON SENTENCE.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 6.—In the circuit court in the case of Dad Herman, who was arrested a short time ago and who waived preliminary hearing, an affidavit of assault and battery was filed. He pleaded guilty to this, being given a $10 fine and imprisonment in jail of 100 days. However, this was suspended upon payment of the fine.

ELOPING COUPLE CAUGHT IN DAKOTA

Skipped Out Two Months Ago, But Were Finally Arrested by the Officers.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 6.—Through a letter written to the postmaster at Landessville, the arrest of Elmer Jones, the Landessville merchant, and Miss Addie Lafferty, a fifteen year old girl, who he induced to leave with him two months ago, were arrested at Arthur, a little town near Fargo, N. D., and will be returned to Marion for action by the courts of Grant county. Sheriff Tony George left last night for Fargo to get them, after receiving word from the sheriff at Fargo he had them in custody.

It is said Jones has been working as a blacksmith at Arthur and he and the girl posed as husband and wife. It is said there discovery came about through the girl making a confidant of some party at Arthur, who wrote to Landessville, where the information was furnished Sheriff Tony George, and he wired to Fargo for the couple to be held.

When Jones left he deserted a wife and several children. The girl is a step-daughter of Joseph Dickey and her mother has been untiring in efforts to locate her.

WELLS CIRCUIT COURT.

But Few Criminal Cases Are on the Docket.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 6.—The circuit court of Wells county began its sessions Monday. The docket this term has something like 200 civil cases. The criminal docket is not heavy, and the time it will require will depend in large measure on whether or not the Bill and Jim Byrd cases are called at this term.

DOUBLE CELEBRATION.

Wabash, Ind., Sept. 6.—Tomorrow at the City park will take place the forty-first annual reunion of the old settlers of Wabash county and the diamond anniversary of the foundation of Wabash and will be the greatest gathering of recent years. The foundation of Wabash took place in the spring, but it was decided to combine the anniversary with the old settlers meeting and have a banner time.

NEW SCHOOL TEACHER.

Decatur, Indiana, September 6.—The Bleeke Lutheran congregation of Union township has extended a call to Albert Sievers, of Lincoln, Mo., to serve as teacher of their parochial school. Some time ago a Mr. Bucher, of Wren, Ohio, was selected, but later tendered his resignation. The congregation is at present building a fine cottage to be occupied by the teacher.

SELLS AND BUYS FARM.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 6.—The eighty acre farm of Del Owen, near Corunna, has been sold to W. A. Shroyer. Owen has purchased a twenty-acre farm in Lagrange county and will move to that place at once.

TEMPLE OPENING

Popular Vaudeville House Has Big Crowds to Greet a Bill of Metropolitan Excellence.

Both variety and quality are being offered by the Temple theater in its opening bill of the season this week. Yesterday two packed houses laughed at and applauded the fun-makers and entertainers, who range from fancy roller skaters, through a whistling genius, high class minstrel singers, good farce comics, to Jack Gardner, the man who changes from black-face dress to street clothes in sixty tiny seconds. There are pinches of other stunts in the bill that make it a winner.

The roller skating stunts indulged in by Fielding and Carlos evidence a great deal of practice and a wonderful control of the muscles. A happy novelty act that is pleasing and full of entertainment is the whistling given by Louis M. Granat, "The Whistling Virtuoso." At times he is the whistling "Rufus" when he fills the big Temple auditorium with ragtime airs. The whistling man has even better control when emitting some grand opera airs and his act received its share of applause. "Tom Katz Night Off" is a farce skit written and staged by Ed C. Gordon. He is assisted by a company of two ladies and while Gordon is capable of carrying out a farce to a successful ending, he hardly attains that result in his present act. There were many whom it pleased, however.

Alexander and Scott, late of the Cohan and Harris minstrels, who come from Virginia, indulge in a "classy" minstrel act, in that both he and "she" appear arrayed in handsome, sparkling and eye-opening clothes. There is plenty of singing and dancing in this act and "Miss" Scott in her feminine role is really fascinating. It is an act that stands high above the usual vaudeville stunt. Following Alexander and Scott come Adair and Dahn, who perform upon a tight wire with a good deal of grace and skill. Their tight wire cake-walking is not a new act, but Adair and Dahn perform in an unusual manner.

The McNish Favorites.

The big favorites, Frank E. and Frank J. McNish, keep everybody laughing every second they are on. A hodge podge of "bonehead frolics" is what they try to offer and they give their antics a humorous turn that draws spontaneous bursts of laughter. Frank E. is "der Vater" and Frank J. "der Sohn" and the latter is almost his dad's equal in a humorous way.

Happy Jack Gardner, whom almost everybody has seen at some time or other, is better than ever in his skit, "A Close Call." Gardner is assisted by Miss Edna Beard as the matinee girl whom he would rather take to lunch than his wife, played by Miss Agnes Fleming. Gardner in his skit displays the complete process of putting on a vaudeville act, giving the workings behind the scenes. "Denny" O'Brien, stage man, figures in the close call by keeping the wife out of sight at first and later taking the matinee girl to a place of safety. Gardner has the ability of devising methods of escape that is at a high premium.

The Temple is the same clean, cool place—a fine place to go. Prof. Dicey continues at the head of the orchestra which consists of the very best musicians.

CLEAN SHOWS AND EXCITING RACES

WILL BE FEATURES OF GREAT FORT WAYNE FAIR, SEPTEMBER 20 TO 24.

The great Fort Wayne fair, which will be held September 20 to 24, promises to eclipse anything heretofore. It isn't really a Fort Wayne fair, nor an Allen county fair; it is too big for that. It is a fair for northern Indiana and western Ohio, and over the entire country has a reputation that is second to none, even the greatest state fairs. Every department of stock raising, agriculture, horticulture and industry is represented in the exhibits. The races are equal to those of the greatest circuits in the country because the big circuit horses are entered here. The purses and stakes are liberal, and the track is the peer of any in America. Circus and carnival features that are clean will be introduced along the "pike," and music will be furnished daily by the Fort Wayne bands.

The magnitude of the Fort Wayne fair is shown by the fact that a feed store, a grocery store and a great restaurant are absolute necessities on the grounds, for the army of employes and attaches necessary to operate the great fair. In reality, the fair grounds becomes a city during fair week.

P. T. Strieder, secretary, and William Lindeman, superintendent of speed, have been on a tour of the fairs in this section of the country to secure entries in addition to many already received for every department of the fair. Mr. Strieder is devoting his energies to securing everything that will prove of interest in every line of exhibit, while Mr. Lindeman is devoting his time to landing good horses for the five days of racing.

Special mention should be made of the "pike" of the 1910 fair. The association invites inspection. Untiring efforts on the part of Secretary Strieder have resulted in the collection of attractions which every man, woman or child can patronize. Several applications for space have been turned down, which is enough to insure a clean "pike." Without a doubt, it will be the biggest and most interesting midway in the history of the Fort Wayne fair.

MIGHTY OVATION FOR MR. PINCHOT

Conservation Congress Set in Wild Uproar When Beveridge Pays the Ex-Forester a Tribute.

INDIANA MAN APPEALS FOR NATIONALISM

The text of Senator Beveridge's speech on Conservation at St. Paul will be found on page 9.

St. Paul, Sept. 7.—The two opposing ideas relating to conservation of natural resources met fairly and squarely today when Senator Beveridge declared for national control, while James J. Hill argued to the contrary.

Gifford Pinchot received an ovation that furnished the most dramatic moment of the congress. The former forester, the object of a wild demonstration by the audience, stood with tears streaming from his eyes until the outburst of cheers had subsided and the spectators were again in their seats.

Just what Senator Beveridge, who started the outburst, was trying to say complimentary to Mr. Pinchot, was drowned in the roar that rose the moment the trend of his remarks became apparent.

And Then It Started.

"Gifford Pinchot—" said the speaker ,and the outburst started. It grew until every one was yelling and the whole house was on its feet waving hats and handkerchiefs.

Pinchot was dragged forward by President Baker. His voice shook as he spoke.

"It is magnificent," he said, "to hear the sound policies of conservation acclaimed as has been done here today. Conservation has won out. I thank you."

Senator Beveridge sounded his keynote in the statement that this is one nation, not forty-six nations.

Mr. Hill said that there were dangers from national control. The machine is too big and remote, he said, and its operation too slow and costly.

Gifford Pinchot and J. B. White, the latter the present chairman of the executive committee, are being boomed by their friends for president of the congress.

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of North Dakota, discussed "National Taxation of Resources."

Chairman Pardee, of the resolutions committee, called that body to order today before the congress resumed. The membership of the committee is said to indicate that the platform to be recommended to the convention will be strongly along the lines of national control as favored by Col. Roosevelt and Gifford Pinchot.

Hines Will Not Get.

Edward B. Hines, the Chicago lumber man, whose appointment as chairman of the credentials committee was opposed by the Illinois delegation because of gossip connecting his name with the money alleged to have figured in the election of Senator Lorimer, was in a fighting mood today.

He asserted that he would not resign the chairmanship under fire. Meanwhile President Baker, of the congress, acting under the impression that Mr. Hines had withdrawn, announced the appointment of G. E. Condra, of the University of Nebraska.

"I understood that Mr. Hines did not want the place," explained Mr. Baker, "and so appointed Mr. Condra."

"I am still chairman," declared Mr. Hines. "I was regularly appointed, did not decline the honor and have not been asked by President Baker to relinquish the place."

UNCLE SAM WINS IN PEACE COURT

International Tribunal at The Hague Settle Old Fisheries Issue.

ENDS CONTENTION OF CENTURY'S AGE

On Most Points Court Gives America Advantage in the Decision.

The Hague, Sept. 7.—The century-old fisheries dispute, the source of constant diplomatic friction between the governments of the United States, Great Britain and New Foundland, was closed today with the award of the international court of arbitration. The award was largely in favor of the United States.

The American government is sustained on points 2, 3, 4, 6 and 7, out of the total of the seven points in which the issue was framed.

Great Britain wins on questions 1 and 5.

While the United States triumphs on five of the seven points, point 5, decided in favor of Great Britain, has been held by Englishmen as the most important of those submitted.

Britain's Big Point.

The fifth point was stated in the form of this question:

"From where must be measured the three marine miles of any of the coasts, bays, creeks or harbors referred to in article 1 of the American-British treaty of 1818?"

United States fishermen claimed the right to take the measure from any part of the British North American shore, and therefore the liberty to fish in the middle of any Canadian bay or estuary having a radius of more than three miles.

The British contention was that the limit should be measured from an imaginary line connecting the headlands. The peace court sustained the British contention.

THE POINTS AS PRESENTED.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The seven points involved i nthe fisheries arbitration in brief were as follows:

First—Must any reasonable regulation made by Great Britain, Canada and New Foundland in the form of municipal laws, ordinances or rules (such regulations being appropriate or necessary for the preservation of the fisheries, desirable on grounds of public order and morals, equitable and fair as between local fishermen and inhabitants of the United States), be subject to the consent of the United States?

Second—Have the inhabitants of the United States, while exercising the liberty to take fish on the treaty coasts, a right to employ as members of their fishing crews persons not inhabitants of the United States?

Third—Can the liberties to take,

VOTED TO THROW BALLINGER OUT

Democrats and One Republican on Committee Agree to It.

REPUBLICANS RUN AWAY FROM ROOM

Chairman Nelson Holds No Quorum of Committee is Present.

Minneapolis, Sept. 7.—At an executive meeting of the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation committee today Senator Duncan W. Fletcher, of Florida, a democrat, introduced a resolution holding that the secretary of the interior was an unfaithful public officer and should be removed. Representative Madison, the republican insurgent from Kansas, offered a resolution holding that the charges which have been made by Gifford Pinchot and Louis Glavis, a former chief of a field division of the general land office, were sustained.

Start the Thing Along.

Representative James, democrat, of Kentucky, offered an amendment to Representative Madison's substitute resolution providing for the removal of Mr. Ballinger from office, and Mr. Madison accepted the amendment. The vote came up on the substitute of Mr. Madison, as amended by the motion of Mr. James, and the roll was called. Those voting for the substitute were Fletcher, W. E. Purcell, of North Dakota, a democrat: Representative James M. Graham, of Illinois, democrat; Representative Madison, republican, and Representative James.

When this vote was being taken Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, republican, and Representative Samuel M. McCall, of Massachusetts, republican, left the committee room, insisting that the full committee should be present.

Insisted There Was Quorum.

The democratic members replied that they had been considering the evidence, that a quorum was present and had a right to transact business.

Senator Nelson, the chairman of the committee, took the vote, voting present himself, and then made the ruling that no quorum was present. Mr. James made the point of order that no member had raised the point of no quorum.

Committee at Loggerheads.

On the question as to whether the resolution demanding the removal of Secretary Ballinger was adopted or whether the question of a quorum being present voided all action, members of the committee are at loggerheads.

It is a question of parliamentary law and which will be threshed out later. Representative James contends that inasmuch as no member had raised the point of no quorum being present the action of the committee stands and the resolution was adopted by the vote registered.

ROOSEVELT AND SEIDEL IN A MIX

Milwaukee Mayor Takes a Fall Out of Faunal Naturalist.

THE COLONEL HAS A WORD TO SAY

Strenuous Program Looms Before Ex-President in Lagerville.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 7.—Soon after Col. Roosevelt arrived here today and before he sat down to breakfast at the Pfister hotel, he found himself involved in a controversy with Emil Seidel, the socialist mayor, who had declined to act upon the reception committee which welcomed the colonel to Milwaukee.

In a contribution to the "Big Stick," a newspaper published by the Milwaukee press club for this occasion, Mayor Seidel stated that "if Mr. Roosevelt comes to Milwaukee holding the same ideas which he expressed in an article published by him March 20, 1909, it is clear that he cannot serve the cause of honesty and decency in American political life."

"It is possible that I have misunderstood the article," stated Mayor Seidel, "but inasmuch as I am a socialist and as he has designated socialism as a thing which is against morals and religion, 'abhorrent,' 'revolting'—which would 'replace the family and home life by a glorious state of free lunch counters and a state foundling asylum'—I am sure that he will be pleased that I am not personally connected with his reception in the city."

No Right to Preach Morality.

Charging the colonel with "a cunning and deliberate purpose to create a false impression," he declared that the visitor "could lay no claim to the right of preaching either morality or religion or civic righteousness."

"In speaking of the tour of Mr. Roosevelt through the west," continued Mayor Seidel, "I fail to see anything of importance beyond political plans and designs. As such, of course, it is of no special service to the present city administration. The problems that now confront our city are of much the same nature as those the nation faces."

Roosevelt arrived from St. Paul at 8 o'clock this morning and for nearly 24 hours will be the guest of the Milwaukee press club on the occasion of its silver jubilee celebration. He was greeted by 3,000 persons.

Hot Program for the Day.

Following breakfast at the Hotel Pfister a program has been mapped out that will keep the colonel going at a lively rate until a late hour tonight. During the course of his visit he will make probably no fewer than half a dozen speeches, winding up with an address at the auditorium tonight where he will address the newspaper men and their guests numbering about 9,000 and an overflow meeting at the hippodrome.

Aside from the speech there will be automobile rides, a luncheon with a number of newspaper publishers and managing editors, a Bohemian luncheon at the Press club at which none but Press club members will take part and a big reception at the Hotel Pfister during the afternoon when the colonel will shake hands and chat with thousands of prominent citizens of Wisconsin.

Colonel Roosevelt will visit the different trade schools, he having made a special request that these institutions be included in the day's program.

Souvenir of the Visit.

A souvenir of Col. Roosevelt's visit is the publication by the Press club of a single edition of the Big Stick. The first page contains a five column "lay out," showing pictures of the colonel in several poses, the entire affair being decorated with the famous mascot "Sacred Cat" of the club, paste

IS SLAYER A FORMER FORT WAYNE MAN

J. R. Loftus Kills Fellow Land Company Employe in California.

Bakersfield, Cal., Sept. 7.—Joseph Lafferty, 40 years old and married, an employe of the Kern County Land company, was shot to death at the Rosedale ranch, south of Bakersfield, yesterday by J. R. Loftus, a land company rider, as the sequel to a fist fight the previous night. Lafferty and Loftus quarreled Saturday night. Lafferty, it is said, prevented Loftus abusing a horse. Loftus resented Lafferty's interference and a fight ensued. Loftus being given a severe beating. It is said that Loftus is a brother of Loftus Brothers, of Chicago.

A man named J. R. Loftus was some years ago a resident of Fort Wayne, at first connected with the Physicians' Defense company and later in the real estate business here, assisting in the promotion of the Lawton place addition. He removed west a number of years ago, and is said to have been located at Bakersfield.

LONG AND ACTIVE CAREER IS ENDED

J. F. W. Meyer, Pioneer Fort Wayne Druggist, Has Passed Away.

END WAS SUDDEN AND UNEXPECTED

Veteran Business Man Had Been Ill But Few Days—Sketch of His Life.

J. F. W. Meyer, pioneer Fort Wayne druggist and widely known citizen for more than sixty years, actively identified with the commercial and social life of the city, died at 5:15 o'clock this morning at his home, 522 Meyer avenue. Mr. Meyer lacked but a few months of completing his 86th year of age.

The end which terminated Mr. Meyer's remarkably long, active and useful career came rather suddenly and unexpectedly. The veteran business man had been ill since Friday, suffering from a recurrent attack of kidney trouble, with which he had been afflicted at intervals for the past few years.

Mr. Meyer, who gave close attention to business despite his advanced age, remained at the store until last Friday evening, though suffering from a cold, but it was not until last evening that danger in his case seemed imminent. Prior attacks of a similar nature had been successfully combatted by the sturdy constitution which, though advanced in years, manifested recuperative power to a marked degree. Always of a cheerful and optimistic disposition, Mr. Meyer had remained firm in the conviction that he was to recover until noon Tuesday, when he expressed to members of his family his belief that the end was near. "I can say, however," he declared, "that I have enjoyed my old age."

Passed Peacefully Away.

Members of his family remained at his bedside until midnight, when conditions seemed to indicate that the patient would safely survive the night. Near 5 o'clock this morning Mr. Meyer awakened and asked the nurse in attendance for a glass of buttermilk. It was given him. The patient took but a sup of the liquid and then lay quietly back upon his side, sinking within fifteen minutes peacefully into the sleep of death. Members of the family, who had been hastily summoned when the aged patient's decline was noted, were not all able to reach his bedside before Mr. Meyer breathed his last. Death is believed to have been directly due to an attack of acute diabetes, superinduced by a severe cold.

News of Mr. Meyer's death reached the down town district with the beginning of business for the day, and it caused profound sorrow. The aged man had been so long a familiar and well-loved figure in business circles that his demise came as a personal sorrow to thousands who have known him intimately and esteemed him highly throughout an acquaintance of many years. It was not generally known that Mr. Meyer was ill, and the public was wholly unprepared for news of his death.

Long in Business Here.

Mr. Meyer was one of the very oldest business men in Fort Wayne, and his name was universally familiar, not only in Fort Wayne, but in a very wide scope of territory throughout northeastern Indiana. In the sixty years of his business career in this city Mr. Meyer came to be known intimately to many thousands of people, whose highest respect and regard he had unfailingly won and held throughout long years of acquaintance, both business and social.

At the head of a large retail drug business in this city and as one of the founders of an immense wholesale drug house in St. Louis, Mr. Meyer was one of the conspicious figures in the drug trade, not only in Indiana, but of the central west. He was a member of the Lutheran church and devoted to his faith; had served as a member of the city council and of the board of waterworks trustees in Fort Wayne, as trustee of Hope hospital and of the Allen county orphans' home and found time aside from his business affairs to give largely of his attention and his ability to these and other interests of a public character.

Sketch of His Career.

Mr. Meyer was born in Holden, Westphalia, Germany, December 19, 1824, so that his age was 85 years, 8 months and 19 days. His sturdy German ancestry is traceable in direct line back to the year 1417. His parents were in humble circumstances, and there was but little opportunity for education of the son, his boyhood years having been given over largely to the herding of sheep on the hills and in the valleys of his native land. When he was but 9 years of age the father died, leaving a widow and six children. Later the mother remarried, and her death occurred in 1846.

The following year the son, with his younger brother, Frederick, came to America, landing at New Orleans on October 3. Acquaintances had already settled in Adams county, Indiana, and toward this point the two brothers turned their faces. Two months of devious journeyings by boat, by stage and afoot, brought them to the village of Monmouth on December 3, 1847. His first employment in America was in clearing land in Adams county, and in the following March the young man became the driver of a team on the old Wabash and Erie canal.

Made a Modest Start.

It was this work that brought him to Fort Wayne, and here he attracted the attention of Hugh B. Reed, then conducting a drugstore at Calhoun and Columbia streets. On February 7, 1842, the young man was given em-

NEW PLAN TO GIVE OUT NEWS OF THE LAST CENSUS

Director Durand Has System That Will Increase the Human Interest.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Census Director Durand is preparing for an innovation in the publication of detailed information regarding the results of the last census. Instead of grouping the information according to subjects as heretofore has been done in the census bulletins, he will present all the information regarding the people of a given county or city under one head.

Carrying this plan into execution he will begin the publication of state bulletins about the first of the year. Speaking today of his purpose in connection with these publications Mr. Durand said:

"These bulletins will contain at least the more important figures derived from the population census, both from the state as a whole and for its counties, cities and minor civil divisions. All the facts available regarding any given county or city which are contained in this bulletin will be published together in one place, one item below another, the name of the county or city appearing at the head of a column, the various subjects being listed down the side of the page."

He expressed the opinion that this method would be much more satisfactory than the old plan of distributing the information so as to make it available only for purposes of comparison as between localities.

"Each place wants to know what it is doing," said the director.

There is to be especial effort to distinguish the urban from the rural population in each county, and those living in villages or cities of more than 2,000 people will be assigned to the former class.

Comparisons with the population of 1900 will be made, the purpose being to show the tendency of given localities city-ward or county-ward. Following this there will be a classification for each county as to color, race, nativity, sex, educational qualifications, etc.

WAS CELEBRATING AND LAID DOWN ON TRACK

Vincent Grams, Youth of Near Avilla, Loses Left Leg.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Huntertown, Ind., Sept. 7.—At the conclusion of a rousing celebration in this place and just before he was ready to start to his home, Vincent Grams, a 19 year old youth living about six miles northeast of Crurubusco, near Avilla, laid down on the track of the Toledo and Chicago interurban, through here about 11:30 o'clock, Tuesday night. A baggage express car bound to Fort Wayne struck him, and though the wheels did not pass over him, Grams' left leg was so badly torn that it had to be amputated below the knee.

The interurban car pushed him along the track for some distance, tearing away the flesh and muscle and leaving the bone of the left leg fully exposed. He was rushed to the Sacred Heart hospital at Garrett, where the member was amputated.

The story is that Grams and a brother had come here to have a good time and that young Grams had just left the saloon to go over and get his horse when he decided to snooze a while on the car track.

SAILOR HERO SAVES SHIP THROUGH A SACRIFICE

Peterson, who was waiting on the deck, stuck out his foot and broke the fall. His foot was badly crushed and three of his toes are so mangled that they will have to be amputated.

INSURGENTS WIN IN THE PRIMARIES

LaFollette Sweeps Wisconsin and Beats Samuel Cook 4 to 1.

BURROWS LOSES OUT IN MICHIGAN

Progressive Candidate is Nominated by New Hampshire Republicans.

The primary elections in several states Tuesday were marked by insurgent and progressive victories in the republican party. Chief of these was the immense triumph of United States Senator LaFollette, insurgent leader in Wisconsin. LaFollette's vote is more than four to one over his opponent, Samuel A. Cook, regular, and McGovern, LaFollette's candidate for governor, was nominated.

In Michigan United States Senator Julius Caesar Burrows, one of the "old guard" of the Aldrich reactionary group and a standpatter of tested worth, was snowed under by Congressman C. E. Townsend, a progressive, and Osborne, progressive, is nominated for governor.

In New Hampshire Robert P. Bass, progressive, was nominated for governor.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 7.—Returns received by the Evening Wisconsin up to 11 o'clock this forenoon indicate Senator LaFollette's plurality for renomination to be forty thousand votes over his opponent, Samuel A. Cook.

LaFollette ran at least twenty thousand votes ahead of the state ticket, which is accounted for by reason of several candidates running for the gubernatorial nomination.

The pluralities of McGovern and the other members of the LaFollette state ticket, with the exception of Tucker, the dead man, are estimated at twenty thousand. Tucker's plurality, presumably because of his demise, was cut to 10,000.

In this county the senior senator's plurality will easily reach beyond 8,000 and estimates are given of his nomination over his opponent by a vote of 5 to 1.

There is no doubt that LaFollette will have control of the platform convention at Madison and that he will have the next legislature back of him. So big was his vote that it carried with it a large majority of the legislative nominees.

The LaFollette state ticket headed by Francis E. McGovern also is nominated by a safe majority.

Insurgents Renominated.

The "insurgent" congressmen were renominated and added to their strength by the nomination of Henry C. Cochems, the former Wisconsin university football star. Cochems defeated Stafford for renomination in the Fifth district. Cochems is the man who placed LaFollette in nomination for president at the last republican convention. Senator LaFollette said: "It shows that the people are awake to their interests; determined to restore representative government. This splendid victory is nothing personal. It is the command of the people that they choose to rule themselves and will not longer suffer themselves to be dominated by special interests."

Congressman Charles H. Weisse, democrat, easily defeated Benjamin Williams, of Ashland, in the race for the United States senatorial nomination of his party.

DEMOCRATS GAIN IN VERMONT STATE ELECTION

Republican Majority Cut Down 12,000 in the Voting.

White River, Vt., Sept. 7.—A revision of the returns made early today for governor from 244 out of 275 election districts, including 215 out of 246 cities and towns, gives:

John A. Meade, republican, 31,359; Charles Watson, democrat, 16,098; Edwin R. Towle, prohibition, 744; C. E. Ordway, socialist, 821.

The vote in 1908 for the republican and democratic candidates from the same districts was: Prouty, republican, 41,223; Burke, democrat, 14,913. If the republican loss of 24 per cent and the democratic gain of 8 per cent is maintained in the remaining thirty-one little towns, Meade's majority will be about 1,200. Partial returns from the two congressional districts indicate that both congressmen for the First and Second districts ran ahead of the republican candidate for governor. The democrats made heavy gains in the legislature and while the senate in the coming session will be solidly republican, forty democrats will sit in the house, an increase of twenty over two years ago.

MAN WITH BAD EYES CAN'T SUPPORT A WIFE

Judge Takes This View and Acquits Bona—The City Court.

In the city court today Judge S. Frank Mungovan decided in the case against James Bona that a man with defective sight is unable to support a wife and therefore not amenable to the law for failure to provide for one.

It was shown that Bona has had trouble with his eyes and that he is now holding a position that pays him only $6 a week, which is about the extent of his earning capacity, when his affliction is taken into consideration.

He stated that he was married when he was seventeen and his wife fifteen and that he had offered to live with her at her mother's home and turn over his entire earnings to her, but she declined to become a party to this arrangement and the court ruled that the money he gets is not more than enough to provide a living for himself.

Pulka Held Without Bond.

Nick Pulka, the Roumanian laborer, who is charged with stabbing Zach Holsen Monday night in the rolling mill district, was held without bond to await the outcome of the injury he inflicted. He is charged with assault and battery with intent to kill.

Got Too Much Cider.

George Davis, of Portland, was fined $1 and costs and sent to jail five days for stealing a coat from a delivery wagon. He said he drank too much hard cider and did not know what he was doing when he committed the theft. James Davis and Isaac Blount, who were with him at the time, were let go on their promise to get out of the city at once.

The Other Cases.

John Miller, a vag who was insulting when he was refused something to eat, drew $10 and costs.

Albert Webber, a cigar maker, who has been on a protracted spree, drew $5 and costs to give him time to sober up.

The wife desertion case against Frank Murphy was dismissed and Antonio Randona, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was held until tomorrow in the absence of an interpreter.

Part of the evidence was heard against Albert Overly and Phin Riley, charged with cruelty to animals. It developed the fact that a buggy they had smashed up scared a horse that was driven by John Grosjean. Grosjean was thrown out of his buggy and his left clavicle fractured.

TWO KILLED; FIVE WILL DIE.

Kalispell, Mont., Sept. 7.—Two persons were killed, fifteen seriously injured, five perhaps fatally, and twenty others suffered minor injuries in the wreck of an eastbound Burlington train on the Great Northern early today at Coram, thirty miles east of Kalispell. The train was en route from Seattle to Kansas City.

CONTRACT TO BE LET.

The park board will let the contract tomorrow for a public comfort station in McCulloch park. The board has also agreed to provide an iron railing to enclose the playgrounds in the park.

SPARES WATERLOO BIG FIRE.

Waterloo, Ind., Sept. 7.—By firing his revolver Walla Botham, nightwatchman, turned in a fire alarm early today and flames caused by the explosion of an oil lamp, which threatened the Locke hotel, were checked, after $1,000 damage had been done. The hotel is one of the oldest in northern Indiana.

LEFT WHEELS MUST BE NEXT TO THE CURBING

Ordinance Governing Traffic is Being Formulated for Council.

With a view of avoiding congestion and annoyances that grow out of vehicles traffic on the streets, an ordinance is being formulated and will probably be introduced at the next meeting of the city council providing that motor cars and vehicles drawn by horses must stop with the left side next to the curbing.

This is just one of many provisions that the ordinance contains. It provides also that all vehicles must keep to the right side of the stret as near the curb as safety will admit of and that the driver must not turn out except to pass a rig going in the same direction and that as soon as it has been passed the driver must take up his position near the curb again.

There are two diagrams in the body of the ordinance showing the course to be pursued in turning corners and providing penalties for turning too far toward the center of the streets in rounding the corners. The document is a long one and is an embellishment upon the state law which governs this traffic in a moderate sort of way.

The ordinance providing for licenses to be obtained by motor car drivers before they can operate machines in the city limits was under consideration and may be ready for introduction at the next meeting. It will probably provide among other things that no person under sixteen years old shall drive an automobile within the limits.

There was a long conference between the city officials and the officers of the Pennsylvania company late yesterday afternoon followed by a meeting of the administration last night. Today there was nothing to give out for publication as no definite steps were taken toward settling the troublesome propositions that have worked out in the scheme to separate grades.

publican endorsement for United States senator will exceed 25,000. With less than half a dozen of the 83 counties not yet heard from Chas S. Osborne, the winning candidate for the republican nomination for governor, has 46,080, Patrick H. Kelley 25,321 and Amos S. Musselman 29,914.

For the republican nomination for lieutenant governor incomplete returns from 36 counties give John Q. Ross, of Muskegon, 21,604; O. D. Dickinson, of Charlotte, 17,889, and N. C. Rice, of Benton Harbor, 15,558.

Representative Henry McMoran, of Port Huron, won his fight for renomination in the Seventh district by about 500 majority over Louis C. Crampton. W. W. Weymer, of Ann Arbor, defeated former Congressman H. C. Smith, of Adrian, for the republican nomination for representative in the Second district, and in the Twelfth or upper peninsular district Representative H. Olin Young won his contest with Angus W. Kerr, of Laurium.

Congressman Washington Gardner, of the Third district, was defeated for renomination by J. M. C. Smith, of Charlotte, but all the remaining republican congressmen were renominated.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 7.—Complete returns from 289 election districts in New Hampshire show that the republicans yesterday nominated Robert P. Bass, of Peterboro, for governor by a vote of 19,577 to 10,273 over Col. Bertham Ellis, of Keene.

Bass is a republican progressive and Ellis is a regular.

MORE MONEY WILL BE SET ASIDE IN SPRING

Wider Bridge May Be Provided for by the Board —Courts.

While the county commissioners have abandoned the idea of erecting a bridge between Lakeside and Spy Run at Tennessee avenue this year, they have gone before the county council and arranged to make another appropriation for the same purpose. This will be done at a special session to be called after the first of the year.

At that time money enough will be asked and will probably be granted to make a bridge forty feet wide instead of thirty-six as provided for this year and on which all bids were rejected. Members of the board will view the locality, decide upon the kind of a bridge that will be best and will put it up without regard to political influences that defeated the scheme last week.

TWO ARE SLAIN BY A LIVE WIRE AT COLUMBUS

Lineman Killed and Crossing Watchman Who Tries to Aid Dies.

Columbus, Ind., Sept. 7.—With his hand clasped tightly about a live wire carrying 2,300 volts, the body of John Hoffmeyer, aged 60, watchman at the Fifth street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad in this city, was found on the tracks this morning. Forty feet away lay the body of Harry O. Schwab, aged 30, a lineman employed by the railroad company.

Schwab had been engaged in stringing copper telegraph wire over an insulated lead wire from a city power plant where the insulation was worn through and Schwab, who was standing on the ground, received the full current. No one saw the accident, but it is believed the watchman went to the lineman's aid and met his death.

pots and other things characteristic of the newspaper shop.

The paper contains welcomes printed in four different languages and ther are caricature editorials all Rooseveltian from start to finish. The absence of Emil Seidel, the socialistic mayor of the city, from the reception caused some comment among members of the colonel's party.

What Roosevelt Says.

Upon being shown this statement, Colonel Roosevelt promptly said:

"On this trip I have made no partisan political speeches and of course shall not break through the rule now by discussing either the state party measures or the municipal party matters and at present, of course, the dominant municipal party in Milwaukee is the socialistic party.

"If anyone wishes to know my views on what is usually called socialism they will find them set out in such fashion that it is impossible to misinterpret or misunderstand them in the article to which the mayor in his letter refers, and I advise them to read the articles themselves and not what the mayor says of them."

The press club's special publication, "The Big Stick," especially disavowed responsibility for the mayor's utterance, saying that "Mr. Roosevelt will understand that Milwaukee's welcome is none the less wholehearted—hardly the less unanimous—because the mayor has seen fit to voice a socialistic dislike for the former head of the nation."

In spite of the failure of the mayor to join in welcoming Colonel Roosevelt the press club had prepared a strenuous program, including half a dozen speeches between breakfast and luncheon time. Realizing that this program was impossible of execution they cut it down shortly after the colonel's arrival.

Upholds LaFollette.

"It has been stated to me since my arrival here," said Colonel Roosevelt today, "that in spite of Senator LaFollette having carried the primaries in fair and open contest, an effort will be made to beat him in the legislature. I do not for one moment believe this, because any such conduct would be from every point of view an outrage and would be a deliberate violation of good faith.

"When in Oregon the democratic candidate for senator, Governor Chamberlain, carried the primaries and it was proposed that the republican legislature should turn him down, I very strongly and publicly took the position that such an act would be one of bad faith by the legislature toward the people, and I take the same position here in regard to Senator LaFollette."

CITY BREVITIES.

Mrs. C. Jones, of Victoria avenue, entertained the Tuesday Embroidery club this week. Mrs. Kent, of Chicago, who is spending the week with her cousin, Mrs. H. Grafmiller, and other relatives, took a group picture of the club members. Mrs. K. Hart will be the next hostess.

REALLY WONDERFUL PRODUCTION AT THE FAIRY

Are Mechanically Perfect and Equal in Dramatic Interest the Real Event.

With the exception that the end is a foregone conclusion, a spectator at the moving picture production of the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures now showing at the Fairy theater experiences all the thrills and enjoys the great battle of heavyweights in the great open-air amphitheater at Reno July 4 last. And the moving picture man has really given us more than any spectator at Reno could have seen, for no human being could have covered all the points of interest all the time the way the moving picture corps has done.

From the arrival of the fighters at Reno and the arrivals of all the celebrities who attended the fight every incident connected with the great mill has been covered. Even the fighters in training previous to the change of base from the Golden state to Reno are shown.

The fight itself is wonderful. Every move of each fighter is shown with the utmost clearness, even the expressions of their faces are presented mercilessly. Jack Johnson's golden smile always in evidence, his playful taps on Jeffries' shoulder as the gong sounds closing a round, Jeffries' drawn and discolored face can be plainly seen as he tries to keep it out of harm's way over Johnson's shoulder, all are shown with almost startling vividness.

And the dramatic incidents connected with the knockout blow are a revelation. On thing the pictures show that has never been mentioned in print, and that is Jack Johnson's quick side step when Corbett, immediately following the counting out of the fallen champion, rushes up to him to prevent any further efforts on his part to strike Jeffries. Not the least interesting are the films showing the breaking up of the crowds after the fight and the incidents in the ring immediately following the ending of the battle. Any conception you may have of just how the great battle was won or lost will be changed by a view of the pictures. They tell the true story of the how and why. The show lasts nearly three hours.

Chairman Nelson and the republican members, excepting Representative Madison, who left the committee room, insist that the committee has taken no official action and that a decision must be reached at some later session.

The committee then took a recess until Friday at 10 o'clock, at which time a report in keeping with the resolution of Senator Fletcher and amendment thereto offered by Representative Madison will be submitted.

Girls Who Work

are especially exposed to the dangers of female organic disorders. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has enabled thousands of girls to hold their positions.

Read what these girls say:

Phila., Pa.—"I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier saved my life. When I was 14 years old I was regular and then it went away for a long time. I went to many doctors but none helped me, so I wrote to you for advice and followed your directions. I took the Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and now I am strong and healthy again. I cannot express my gratitude to you."—Lizzie Weber, 4152 N. Fairhill St., Phila., Pa.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"Having suffered for five long years with suppression and great pain every month, spending big money for doctors and getting no cure, I at last went to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine with little hopes, but found just what I needed. To-day I am regular and have no pain, thanks to your advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Lizzie Steiger, 5510 Fleet Ave., S. E., Cleveland, Ohio.

Is it not reasonable to suppose that a medicine that did so much for these girls will do the same for any other girl who is suffering with the same troubles?

These testimonial letters are the genuine and truthful statements from honest people.

Does it not seem the only sensible thing to give such a medicine at least a trial? You may be sure that it can do you no harm, and there is lots of proof that it will do you much good.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

ENDED HIS LIFE WITH TARGET GUN

Suffering With Bright's Disease, a Kosciusko Boat Builder Committed Suicide.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 7.—Becoming despondent because of constant ill health, Frederick Greider, aged 35 years, shot himself at his home half a mile east of Vawter Park, in Turkey Creek township, yesterday and died several hours afterward.

His brother, who was in another room at the time, heard the report of the shot and hastened to the room in which Frederick was, finding him lying on the floor with the gun by his side and a wound in his head. A physician was summoned, but all efforts to save his life were of no avail.

The gun with which the deed was committed was a twenty-two calibre target rifle. He had placed the muzzle to his head and then pulled the trigger by means of a string attached to it. Greider was a boat builder by trade and had been a sufferer from Bright's disease for some years.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Greider and several brothers and sisters.

LOVE FOR LIQUOR LED TO RASH ACT

Huntington Woman Took Carbolic Acid in an Attempt to End Her Own Life.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 7.—Carrying out a threat that she had been constantly making for the last twenty years, Mrs. Emma Glathart, the wife of Fred Glathart, attempted suicide yesterday by taking a quantity of carbolic acid at her home. She lapsed into unconsciousness, but her life was saved by the two physicians summoned by the husband, who had found her lying unconscious on a couch.

Mrs. Glathart is a woman about fifty years of age, and seems to have a failing for liquor. She has been unfortunate in that respect and has required attention at various times. It is supposed she took the poison in a fit of despondency. It was her second attempt at suicide. Recently she was in police court and was fined for drunkenness, having been found dead drunk on the street.

She spent Monday in Fort Wayne and there she secured a quantity of whisky, which it is thought she brought home with her. Her inability to control her appetite for liquor is thought to have led her to the rash act of suicide. The family came here from Ohio five years ago.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 7.—Prof. P. A. Allen has received a letter from Prof. Orville Hickam, who taught history in the Bluffton high school for two years, informing Prof. Allen of his election to a position as an instructor in the high school of Duluth, Minn., at a salary of $1,200 per year and stating that it was necessary for him to report at Duluth immediately. He asked for his release by the local school board, and this will be granted, as the board here will be able to secure a good instructor from a list of several eligible applicants and would not want to retard the advancement of Prof. Hickam. He is a fine teacher and the local board was sorry to learn of his resignation. The vacancy will be filled within a day or two, ready for the opening of school.

INSURGENCY WINS.

LaFollette triumphant; Burrows prostrate in defeat. Nothing could much better illustrate the temper of the people than the victory of the insurgent and radical in Wisconsin and the disaster to the standpatter in Michigan. Each is typical of the school of politics in which he has trained. LaFollette's triumph was expected in the Wisconsin primaries, but that he would sweep the state and overcome his enemies by four or five votes to every one cast against him was more than was looked for. That Senator Burrows was having formidable opposition in Michigan was understood, but that he should suffer defeat so overwhelming as has been inflicted upon him by that admirable progressive, Congressman Charles E. Townsend, becomes almost astounding. Even in New Hampshire, a state that has been considered as safely standpat as Rhode Island itself and ruled by one of the most eminent of the senate reactionaries, progressives won a victory in the nomination of Bass for governor. The fight inaugurated four years ago by Mr. Winston Churchill, the novelist, to rescue New Hampshire from the grasp of the railway interests is bearing fruit.

LaFollette's fight is not yet over, but so overwhelming is his victory it now appears certain he will be able to control the Wisconsin legislature after the November elections, thus insuring his return to the senate. He will have a hard fight. Interests gigantic, of resources unlimited and conscience without scruples are ready to go to any length to defeat him. There seems, however, the happy certainty that the loyalty of the people of Wisconsin to this splendid fighter cannot be shaken. The beating of Burrows in Michigan is an auspicious circumstance. He typifies the old order that is passing away. During a long career in the house Burrows was undeviatingly "regular." Since going to the senate he has been of the inner circle of reactionaries of which Aldrich is the chief. The moment Michigan began to insurge Burrows became the selected prey of insurgents. Next to "getting" Aldrich and Hale and Lodge the "getting" of Burrows should be regarded as the crowning achievement of insurgency in the fight before the people. There is a stirring from the depths in the politics of the country. Insurgency is the protest of republicans against the alliance of their party with predatory wealth and organized pillage. There can be but one outcome if the people stand fast by the course they have chosen. Insurgency is not western radicalism. Its leaven is working throughout the country. New Hampshire has spoken. A congressional district in Massachusetts and another in New York give clue to the temper of the people there. In the south, where democracy is sadly in need of regeneration and new blood, hybrid political creations of ancient bourbonism and standpattism have been repudiated. When the south shall have felt the stir of the new spirit of the times as the north is feeling it there will be a clear way to complete triumph of the people.

JOHN FREDERICK WILLIAM MEYEY.

Mourning will be sincere throughout Allen county when the news is general that John Frederick William Meyer of this city has passed away. For more than three score years his relations, business and personal, had been maintained with the people of Fort Wayne and the county. Doubtless it is true that he knew and was personally known to more people than any other citizen here. During a business career of much more than half a century he had established himself securely in the respect and regard of the entire community. During the greater part of this long period he sustained a peculiarly intimate relation to large numbers—men and women in city and country who considered no step of import well begun until J. F. W. Meyer had been counseled with. Great store was set by his judgment and his advice bore weight persons unfamiliar with this relation between him and the multitude may not easily comprehend. It may be said that he was counsellor and friend to more people than any other man here among us. As he had been priest or pastor, those who knew him well sought the judgment of his wisdom or the cheer of his sympathy, and to all such he was as careful and conscientious as he could have been in any concerns bearing upon his own profit or any course determining his own conduct. He was helpful to thousands and by such as survive he will be held in grateful memory. Personally Mr. Meyer was of most engaging qualities. He was genial, good-natured and beamed with a kindly humor rare as it was captivating. His character was wholly above reproach and his name a synonym for business honor no less than private probity. He had been going and coming among the people of Fort Wayne so long that the city without him will not seem quite the same. Fort Wayne business will never have a choicer tradition than has been given it by John Frederick William Meyer.

Fort Wayne Should Be Proud of Much

Many Things Here Show Handsomely in Comparison With Other Cities Which Are Much in the Limelight as Municipal Models.

To the Editor of The Sentinel: While sitting at my office window this morning and glancing out over the western part of the city and noticing the vast number of beautiful shade trees we have, a thought occurred to me which has often been in my mind and was especially so during the trip I have just returned from. I spent several days in Chicago, one day in Milwaukee, a few hours in Madison, Wis., three days in St. Paul, a part of two days in Minneapolis, two days in Des Moines, Ia., and one in Cedar Rapids. The express purpose of my visit was to see how we could better our city and its government; in short, to get more for our money than we now receive. That thought is that the citizens of this town do not realize what they have and what they could do with their opportunities, but look away off in the distance and wonder how we can get the things those other places brag about, and a majority of us become somewhat envious of their good fortunes and soured at, what we call, our unfavorable conditions. I heard one gentleman of Des Moines remark that they "had never seemed to have prosperity until they had gone around town and smothered that large crowd of people who make more noise than anything else, who are commonly called 'knockers,' and inaugurated a sentiment that had brought the constructor to the front." Continuing, he said "that with this sentiment in the foreground, they realized that it was not necessary to tear the other man down to build yourself up, that there was plenty of space for everyone, and that when you let the other fellow alone, he could not help but promote your best interests while increasing his."

One has only to go to such cities as I have mentioned above to begin to realize the great benefit we have in our waterworks. They cost us lots of money, but I almost defy any person to tell when he paid his part. We pump as much water with our 64,000 people as Des Moines does with 86,000. They have a contest now on hand at Des Moines trying to reduce the meter rent from thirty cents per thousand gallons to twenty cents. Cedar Rapids charges twenty cents per one thousand gallons and some people think that we are being oppressed when our city charges ten cents per thousand gallons, and is making money at it. In some of these cities they are trying to reduce the cost of electric lights from twelve to ten cents per kilowatt, when ours cannot exceed ten cents and is often at eight and less. By the way, are these not two good illustrations favoring the municipal ownership of public utilities?

A former mayor of Nashville, Tenn., to whom I was talking, said that without any law authorizing it, he had been able to induce a privately operating lighting company to reduce its prices to a maximum of six cents per kilowatt and they were not losing any money at it.

As to the paving of our streets, we saw some streets that were better than ours, but where we saw one better, we saw many that were poorer and the curious part about the thing is that the cost was about the same whether the street was poor or good.

We ought to boulevard our rivers and we should have a plan that provides for this to become a fact in the not very far future and so plan it that all public improvement be made with that purpose in mind. But to get back where we started from. Would not our people generally prefer to have the trees scattered all over the city, as we now have, to having them in parks and along beautiful boulevards, especially as those parks and boulevards would not be between us and the sun on a hot afternoon?

There are many little things that we may do without much expense that will be for the general benefit of everybody. Let us be a little more forgiving and more public-spirited, and we will get these before the great things have their turn, and there will be more enjoyment coming from little matters than there will be from the large ones, even when they are fully completed.

MORMONS TO ABANDON UTAH.

Will Go to Mexico to Practice Polygamy, Says a Priest.

Galveston, Sept. 7.—Hamilton Smith, a priest of the Mormon church, who has participated in the close of a sale of 50,000 acres of land to the Mormons in the state of Coahuila, Mexico, is authority for the statement that President Diaz has assured the church that polygamy and all other practices of the church will be permitted without interference in Mexico. Dr. Smith also states that his people will abandon Utah in the not far distant future and settle in Mexico, where they will not be prosecuted for their religion and its practices. The Mormons already own 65,000 acres of land and have a well-established colony in Mexico adjoining the 50,000 acres just acquired.

Rheumatism in Ankles

One Bottle of Rheuma Cured Woman Who Could Not Walk.

Marvelous as this story may seem, it is absolutely true; but this is only one of the many almost magical cures that Rheuma is performing these days.

Mrs. Gertrude Kozel, Smithfield, Pa., write on Feb. 14, 1910: "I had Rheumatism for over a year; it settled in my ankles and I could not walk. I have taken one bottle of Rheuma and do not have any more pain, and I can again walk at will."

Meyer Bros. Co. will sell any reader of The Sentinel a bottle of Rheuma for 50 cents, and guarantees it to cure any case of any kind of Rheumatism or money back.

Gratifying relief comes in a day, because Rheuma acts at one time on the Kidneys, Stomach, Liver and Blood, and starts to rid the entire system of poisonous Uric Acid at once.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

What the Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

The public and parochial schools of the city opened this morning under the most favorable auspices.

G. P. Gordon, the well known chicken fancier of Fort Wayne, has been selected as judge of poultry at the Wabash fair.

The Wabash hospital at Peru has been completed and fitted up in fine style under the supervision of the Sisters of Charity.

H. W. Mordhurst manages the Temple in the absence of Col. J. H. Simonson. Mr. Mordhurst objects to a military title at present.

There were two exciting five-mile bicycle races out on the St. Joe road this afternoon under the supervision of Capt. Glen Edgerton, and quite a party assembled to witness the genteel and amusing sport.

"Majolica," Nathan & Strauss' famous trotting stallion, trotted a mile in 2:15 at Providence, R. I., yesterday, beating his former record.

Col. W. H. Cooney, who was formerly superintendent of the Fort Wayne stock yards, is in the city to attend the great fair next week.

This morning Capt. Charles Reese entered upon his duties as city assessor, succeeding Louis Jacquel in a position which he has honored and elevated to the highest standard of excellence.

The immense warehouse of S. Bash & Co. on West Columbia street, was destroyed by fire last evening with a loss of about $30,000. The site of the ruined wareroom is fated. About the years 1855 and 1856 John E. Hill and Alexander M. Orbison conducted on the same spot a warehouse which burned.

Mr. Spencer, of Pittsburg, and Will McKinnie, of this city, both own pacing horses named "Billy F." The flyers are in the Ohio and Indiana circuit and create confusion. Thursday at Columbus Mr. Spencer and Scott and Jordon, who handle McKinnie's horse, got into a dispute and wound up by putting up $500 apiece on the pacers. The horses will be driven for the purse September 26 over the Detroit track.

POPE'S ENVOY HAS MESSAGE TO THE NEW WORLD

Notable Address by Cardinal Vanutelli to Eucharistic Congress.

Montreal, Canada, Sept. 7.—Cardinal Vanutelli, the legate of the pope, addressed the Eucharistic Congress today. After expressing his appreciation of the welcome tendered him, he continued in part as follows:

"How beautiful is the spectacle presented today to the entire universe by the Catholic church in this fortunate land of America. Europe stretches out her hand to America, and America, in a sublime enthusiasm, joins with her to exalt the greatest of the sacraments under the guidance and with the encouragement of the Supreme Pastor.

"It seemed at first as if the difficulties of such a long voyage would deprive America of the honor and satisfaction of entertaining an International Eucharistic Congress. But faith will move mountains, and when planted in the heart, as it is in those of all Canadians, it regards no difficulties; it sees only the need which it has to assert and manifest itself. To Montreal belongs the honor of receiving within its walls the first International Eucharistic Congress held on the American continent, but there is every reason to hope that, thanks to this first example, other congresses will be held in America, alternating with those in Europe and other parts of the world. Toward the end of the fifteenth century a great occurrence, the discovery of America, revealed the aims reserved by Providence for modern times. God said to his church, as he had said to his Divine Son: 'I shall give Thee as a heritage all the nations of the earth; I shall give unto Thee the countless population of these immense regions, to be added to those already in my bosom. I shall raise up apostles who will speak my words through these new lands.' Here in particular to this beautiful valley of the St. Lawrence shall come champions of the faith and of civilization who will quickly transform this deserted, forest-clad land and will found a colony to establish here the Catholic religion and to effect the conversion of its savage peoples. Canada shall be the cradle of a great Christian world. Barely two centuries and a half shall have elapsed before Catholic North America shall see its flourishing dioceses attached to the ancient hierarchy of the churches of the Old World and the universal Shepherd shall show to an astonished universe the Old and the New World realizing the universality of the church, predicted by the Savior to his apostles.

"Where can this universality, prepared by divine will, better manifest itself than in an international congress such as this which I have the satisfaction to salute in the name of the holy father—a congress of representatives of all the races and all the nationalities, united as members of a single family, of bishops from all quarters of the Orient and Occident, of priests of divers rites gathered from every country, of the faithful of every colony as on the day of Pentecost? I cannot less admire the strong, the beautiful unity of which we are here the witnesses, unity of spirit in the truth, union of hearts in love. On either side of the ocean we chant the same creed.

"If you greet with such enthusiasm the legate of the pope it is because you wish to manifest before the whole world your love and your obedience to him at Rome whom you recognize, as do all Catholics as the sole chief, the sole shepherd, the sole father of all souls. Where else can one meet such unity of faith, such unity of leadership, such union of souls in love, in convictions and in conduct! This unity, which has shown itself so magnificently at Brussels, at Lourdes, at London, and in so many other great cities in Europe, shines out to still greater advantage in this city of Montreal, in this cathedral which strives to reproduce the basilica of the vatican.

"The secret of this unity, the bond of this union lies in the sacrament which has brought about this congress—the Eucharist. Grouped around the same altar, united in the oblation of the same sacrifice, seated at the same table, invited to the same banquet, we drink from the same cup; we eat the same bread—the body of Him who in uniting Himself to us unites us all to Him. This mystery is the same in all places and at all times, from the catacombs of the first century to our congress of the twentieth.

Reciting the history of the foundation of Montreal, when the first act of the colonists was to erect an altar and celebrate mass, Cardinal Vanutelli continued: "Was not this a first Eucharistic Congress of Canada and America? It was in any case, under the plans of God, the preparation for the congress of 1910. The missionary who delivered the sermon at that mass foresaw the great congress of today when he said: 'What you see is only a little seed, but I have no doubt that from it shall grow a mighty tree.' We have before our eyes this mighty tree. We await from this congress great victories for the right. May it be the source of a new fruitfulness of the Catholic life of America! May it check the fire which everywhere menaces with subversive ideas, kindled in the Old and the New World."

Cardinal Vanutelli concluded with a reference to the difficulties of the Roman Catholic church in France, expressing the hope that Canada, the daughter nation to France, should obtain divine clemency for the country which gave to her the breath of life and should see her again restored as before to the religious liberty the life and the faith of her ancestors.

Rev. M. H. Krause, now living in Akron, O., but a former member of the Trinity United Brethren church in this city, is in the city upon a visit and will preach at his former church here tonight.

WHY
PATTERSON - FLETCHER CO.

Is the Largest Clothing Store in Northern Indiana, and One of the Three Largest in the State

For the last fourteen years this store has each year sold high-grade clothing for men and boys on a smaller margin of profit than it did the year before. For fourteen years, without one skip, this store has increased its business over the year before at least 10 per cent. We have advertised for years that we were a mutual store. We promised to lower our per cent of profit as our business increased and we have done it. Our customers and friends believed we would do it and they know now that we are doing it. They came and then sent their friends. These "friends" sent their friends and so continued the endless chain until now.

We Make This Statement

"The Patterson-Fletcher Co. is doing at least 60 per cent. more business than any other clothing store in the state whose expenses are no larger." This is the reason we have not been afraid to put such clothing as "Kuppenheimer," and Hart Schaffner & Marx into competition with poorly tailored garments. These clothes cost the merchant fifteen to twenty per cent. more than is charged by the average manufacturer, but you know, and we know they are twenty per cent. better.

Our Great Business with the small expense is why, and the only reason why we can sell these clothes to you at the prices we do.

Now Here It Is in a Nutshell: "We Want Your Trade and You Want the High Grade Merchandise We Sell"

You want the three to six dollars that we save you on every suit of clothes and you don't care how much more it is; so be a Patterson-Fletcher Co. "booster." We not only need your trade but also the trade of your friends in order to give the prices we shall give this fall.

Ashley and Griswold Reunion.

Middleton Family Reunion.

The third annual reunion of the Middleton family was held Sunday at Robison park with sixty-nine members in attendance. She wore a white hat trimmed in ostrich plumes and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Miss Frances Vachon and Mr. Robert Vachon were the attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield left soon afterwards upon a trip to Detroit. Mr. Littlefield is a well-respected young jeweler of the city, employed by Dallas F. Green.

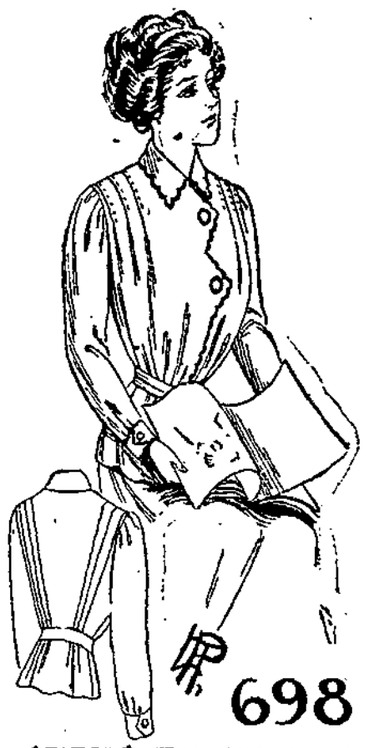
INEXPENSIVE DRESSING SACQUE.

By Mrs. Jane Ford.



698

7 SIZES 32 TO 44 BUST

To the woman who wants comfort, yet insists upon being neatly dressed, the sack illustrated should prove attractive. It can be pleasingly developed from very inexpensive materials, although the pattern may be used for the basis of an elaborate affair of silk, ribbons and lace. It is easy to make. Even when an elaborate negligee is decided upon it is cut in such a way that it will not require a great deal of work to complete.

The pattern can be had in seven sizes that run from thirty-two to forty-four inches bust measure. To copy it for the average person requires about four and three-quarters yards of goods twenty-four inches wide, or three and seven-eighths yards thirty-six inches wide. The sack is plain with the exception of three tucks on each shoulder, that are stitched the full length of the back, and fit the goods to the figure. At the front they are stitched only yoke depth, and so provide the necessary fullness over the bust. The pattern gives a full length sleeve, but it can be cut off and finished anywhere below the elbow.

For a general utility garment a sack made after this model from either cotton or light-weight woolen goods would launder nicely. It would not be necessary to employ trimming, as the stitched edges give a pretty finish, but if it is considered too plain, bias bands of a contrasting color could be used. A dainty little sack for wear about one's room could be made of pink or blue crepe de chine and trimmed with embroidered net lace, arranged along the edge of the collar, and to outline the front closing. If it is put on full, it will fall in cascade, and rosettes of baby ribbon arranged at the neck and on each point will add much to its appearance. The lace should also be used to finish the sleeves, and a broad ribbon for the tie at the waist.

TO WASH MADRAS CURTAINS.

Lay the curtains in cold water, to which has been added a teaspoonful of vinegar, for five minutes or—if very much soiled—a little longer. This will set the colors and release the dirt. Squeeze out of this water and pass the curtains into a bath of warm soapsuds, using white soap. Squeeze through the hands, rubbing only lightly. Do not use soap directly on the curtains. Rinse in warm water and then in cold, adding a teaspoonful of ammonia to the last rinsing. Hang up in the shade to dry and if necessary press with a warm iron. Frequently a shake is all that is necessary.

IN THE THEATERS

Mrs. Fiske in "Becky Sharp" This Evening.

Mrs. Fiske will come to Fort Wayne in the greatest role which she has ever assumed, that of "Becky Sharp," the engagement being scheduled for the Majestic this evening. Mrs. Fiske appears as usual under the direction of Harrison Grey Fiske and will have the able support of the well known and well trained Manhattan company, which has done service for her for several years past. It contains many of the best players on the American stage, and its work in "Becky Sharp" has been commended enthusiastically by the critical fraternity throughout the east.

"Becky Sharp" is the first successful dramatization to be made of Thackeray's "Vanity Fair," a book which has always been considered replete with dramatic material, but which until put into stage form by Langdon Mitchell, had always proven a stumbling block to aspiring playwrights. Coming rightfully by an unusual literary equipment, being the son of the clever and much-loved Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, he found full opportunity in combining the literary genius of Thackeray and the wonderful artistic equipment of Mrs. Fiske. The result is stage history and Mrs. Fiske, bringing to bear upon the character the entire force of her intellect and intelligence, personality and artistic penetration, has made of "Beck Sharp" a figure that will always endure.

"As the Sun Went Down" Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Arthur C. Aiston's "As the Son Went Down" company, will be seen at the Majestic for three days, starting Thursday.

The company is headed by Esther Williams, an artist who is well known in this city, her last role having been that of "Parepa" in "At the Old Cross Roads," in which she scored a tremendous hit and to whose ability not only as an actress, but as the stage director of this play, much of the success of it can be attributed. Miss Williams will have the support of a uniformally good company.

The production is thoroughly complete, the company carrying their own baggage car for the transportation of the great amount of scenery and properties necessary for the proper presentation of the play.

Manager Aiston's record here is of always having given satisfaction with his companies and productions and this fact is gaining for his new play, "As the Sun Went Down," by Geo. D. Baker, an unusual amount of respectful attention.

TEMPLE THEATER.

Frank E. McNish tells a good one on himself. Some years ago he had a habit of watching and waiting for some baby or child in the audience to bawl or cry out, as they usually do, at the wrong time. Well McNish, as soon as he would hear it, would say so the whole house could hear him. "No I am not your papa," getting big laughs. Well one day in St. Louis at the Olympic theater, when the house was crowded at a matinee, he heard a small child's voice in the box to his left. McNish, without turning his head, made the usual remark, when a lady's voice was heard to say, "What's that!" Imagine McNish's surprise to turn and see his wife and the young hopeful sitting before him. She had never heard him use the expression and was so interested in his work she spoke before she thought. Of course the audience yelled and screamed with laughter and it was plain to be seen McNish was caught off his base.

McNish and his son, whom now is a young man, are delighting Temple patrons this week with an excellent comedy offering entitled, "Bonehead Frolics." Their act is one big scream and is a sure cure for the blues.

Soften one yeast cake in half a cupful of lukewarm water, then stir into it enough flour to make a very stiff dough (nearly two cupfuls.) Knead thoroughly, shaping into a ball. Make two cuts on the top about one-fourth of an inch deep, then place the paste in a saucepan of tepid water, the cut side up. In a few minutes the ball will begin to swell and float on the top of the water. When quite light, remove with a skimmer to a bowl containing half a cupful lukewarm water and half a teaspoonful of salt. Stir in enough flour to make a dough stiff enough to knead, nearly two cupfuls, and stand in a warm place until light. Then shape into a loaf, and when again light, bake.

Claret Ice.

Put one pound of sugar and one pint of hot water in a saucepan over the fire, stir until the sugar is dissolved, boil for one minute and set aside. When cold add the strained juice of three lemons and one pint of good claret and freeze.

S.S.S. CURES MALARIA

Malaria is a species of blood poverty known as Anaemia; it is a condition in which the circulation is so weak and impure that it is unable to supply the system with sufficient nourishment and strength to preserve ordinary health.

The real source of malarial infection is a question about which medical authorities differ. Some take the position that it is an atmospheric poison, the germs of which are breathed into the lungs and thus transmitted to the circulation. Others advance the theory that persons become inoculated with the poison through the bites of mosquitos. While the profession differ about the actual method of malarial infection, they all agree that Malaria is a BLOOD DISEASE, and any treatment to successfully overcome its effects must PURIFY THE BLOOD.

When the germs of Malaria get into the circulation, the nutritive properties of the blood are weakened, the rich, red corpuscles being gradually destroyed by the malarial poison. Then the symptoms of the disease begin to be manifest. In the first stages of Malaria the complexion becomes pale and sallow, the appetite is affected, the system grows bilious, and there is a general feeling of lassitude and weakness. Malaria is an insidious poison and it gradually attacks other portions of the system, and if the germs are allowed to remain in the blood, they sometimes give rise to serious diseases and disorders. As the circulation becomes more thoroughly saturated with the malarial infection, the digestion is deranged, chills and fever come and go, skin diseases, boils, sores and ulcers, etc. break out on the body, and after awhile the entire health becomes impaired.

POISONED BY THE GERMS OF MALARIA.

I began using your S. S. S. probably ten years ago for Malaria and blood troubles, and it proved so good at that time that I have continued ever since using it as a family remedy. Recently one of my children was troubled with large, painful boils on the back of his neck; after suffering with these for several months, we tried S. S. S., and am glad to state that a few bottles cured him entirely. It is a pleasure for me to recommend S. S. S. for the benefit of others who are needing a first rate blood purifier, tonic and sure cure for Malaria. C. C. HEMINGWAY, Arkansas City, Ark.

NO RELIEF UNTIL S. S. S. WAS TAKEN.

I had a horrible attack of boils that broke out all over my body, from Malaria, and from which I could get no possible relief until I began taking your medicine, and from my experience I can safely say that S. S. S. is the best blood purifier in the world. MRS. M. P. SMYTHERS, Wytheville, Va.

Malaria can only be cured by removing the germs from the blood. Purging the liver and bowels with strong, nauseating cathartics can never reach the real seat of the trouble, because such things do not affect the circulation. S. S. S. searches out and destroys every particle of malarial infection and builds up the blood to a healthy, nourishing condition. Then the system receives its required amount of nutriment, the bright red corpuscles begin to multiply in the circulation, sallow complexions grow ruddy and healthful, the liver and digestion are righted, the appetite improved, and the system vitalized and refreshed in every way. S. S. S. is a safe and pleasant remedy as well as an efficient one. Write for free book on the blood and any medical advice desired, no charge for either. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

GOVERNOR TO GIVE KEYNOTE OF THE CAMPAIGN

Marshall to Make Speech in Indianapolis During the Month.

Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—Governor Marshall will open the Indiana campaign for the democratic party.

The opening speech will be delivered in Indianapolis, in Tomlinson hall, between Sept. 15 and 25, the date not having yet been decided.

These plans have been determined by the democratic leaders, U. S. Jackson, state chairman, having had a conference on the matter with Governor Marshall last evening.

Governor Marshall's speech will be in the nature of a "keynote" and will present the issues of the campaign in a forceful manner. The governor's popularity and his ability to present his ideas in a clear and convincing way make him admirably adapted to the task that he has accepted.

After the governor's speech the speaking campaign will be on in earnest and will reach every corner of Indiana. John W. Kern and Senator Shively will get into the campaign immediately following the governor's speech and will be kept busy by the speakers' bureau, of which Bert Hendren is chairman. They will have the assistance of many able speakers and it is certain that democratic views of the present issues will be presented clearly and logically. The dates for Mr. Bryan's Indiana speeches have not yet been set. Chairman Jackson is, however, expecting every day an announcement from Col. Bryan, telling just when he can most conveniently come.

The county meetings, which come in the wake of the democratic district meetings, are progressing well and the interest shown everywhere by democrats in the approaching election is manifest in the large attendance and enthusiasm in the various counties. In nearly every case most of the county candidates and practically all of the precinct committeemen have attended and have avowed their willingness and intention to put forth every effort to carry their precinct and county to victory.

"When the precinct committeemen show such enthusiasm and a disposition to work," said Chairman Jackson yesterday, "there can be no doubt of the result. Their activity is a guarantee that the full democratic vote will be cast. With this guarantee democratic success is assured. Success is in their hands. If there is a disposition to be indifferent or over-confident, there is danger ahead. But this is not the case with the democratic committeemen. They realize the responsibility that rests upon them. They are eager and willing—and they are not over-confident. Over-confidence is a fatal error—and it is not going to be one of our faults this year. We are confident that we will win, but we know we must work—and work we will."

MANY VISITORS TO THE FAIR

Fort Wayne's Big Show Much Talked Of in Surrounding Districts.

The reports coming in from all over Northern Indiana are encouraging for one of the biggest crowds that ever attended a Fort Wayne fair. Already the railroads are taking up the matter of special trains in order to handle the passenger traffic. Secretary Strieder has been notified by the Nickel Plate officials that two special trains will be run on Wednesday of the fair week and the L. E. & W. has announced at least one special train for Thursday. The unusual list of entries in the speed department has already secured some of the finest horses in the racing circuits and more coming in daily to participate in the liberal purses and stakes of $10,000. The premium offerings of $8,000 has flooded the secretary's office with applications and the clerks are kept busy day and night taking care of this part of the show. The later ones to come in are as follows:

Paul Weitsel, Winchester, Ind., will ship exhibit of Duroc Jersey hogs from the state fair.

The Studebaker exhibit from Van Buren, Ind.

Wilson Bros., owners of the Maple Grove stock farm, Muncie, Ind., have asked for reservation of eighteen stalls for their herd of Aberdeen Angus cattle.

Maywood Stock farm, Indianapolis, will probably send its wonderful exhibit of draft horses.

Lizzie and William Roebuck, who always have a fine showing of garden products, will have another large exhibit this year.

These are only a few of the many late applications. The demand for concessions is unusually big this year and from them all Secretary Strieder is going to have the cream of attractions for the pike. Cheap and sensational features are done away with entirely. Good moral shows for the entertainment of families, and trained animal shows are acceptable and there will be enough of them to give plenty of variety to a day's visit to the fair, after the general exhibits and races have been seen. It is the speed department that will shine beyond any previous race program in Fort Wayne. Various grand circuit stables have been entered in the stakes and such well known horsemen as Alonzo McDonald, Knapsack McCarty, William Marvin, Harry Jones and Allen Bros., will be here. McCarty's famous trotter, with a record of 5.25, and his Nancy Royce will be features.

Hoagland Bros., who will put on the Roman hippodrome chariot races, as fill-in between races, are going to try to beat the half-mile record in chariot racing. This feature is another of the numerous features that will be altogether additional to the fair as given in previous years.

The public can look for a great show this year.

Vets Have a Bare Chance to Land in Second Place

Must Win Consistently From Now to the Close of the Season to Improve Position in the Race.

Two weeks from today the curtain will fall on the Central league season of 1910 and if Dayton improves its position in the pennant fight the club will have to win consistently from this time to the finish as, with Willie Robertson's shut-out in the final fray on the Vet ball yard, Fort Wayne is five full games to the good and going at a rate that will make the task of overtaking the Burkies a most difficult piece of work.

Elmer Redelle, one of the chief owners of the Vet franchise, is positive that if he had been able to obtain the contract of Frank McDermott early in the year he would have won the pennant. He and his associates were willing to give more than the draft price of $750 for the little fellow, but Claude H. Varnell would not consider an offer for the third sacker and this wise conclusion has proven singularly fortunate because his work in the games against Grand Rapids and South Bend on the home lot was one great factor in keeping his pards in their present place.

After Jack Pendry had proven a failure the Vets renewed their efforts to land McDermott, but the Fort Wayne owner could not see it and Redelle charges the loss of the pennant to the fact that he was weak at third base at a time when his club was making its strongest fight.

This shutout performance of William Robertson's is becoming a habit rather than a subject of comment. Another thing about Robertson is that he is known at Coshocton as plain Bill. Some jokesmith tacked the name of "Wee Willie" to him when he donned Central league garb as a pitcher on the Wheeling club and it has stuck.

On his native heath, where he is known as a leading nimrod, people generally call him Bill, firm in the belief that on account of a most creditable piece of growing in his youthful days he is entitled to something better than the knickerbocker surname of Willie. Anyhow he had the Vets guessing in his closing combat on their own ball yard.

Aristo DeHaven, whose batting eye has greatly improved since he was transplanted from the torrid southern clime, garnered half of the Veterans bingle crop with two singles that went to waste, as not a Dayton trooper circled the bases in the final fray and only two got as far as second.

In the meantime Archie Neuschafer was delivering a most commendable line of hurling and while it was not of the expert variety it was of sufficient merit to entitle him to something better than a seven-to-nothing loss. His pals did some ground tumbling that netted them seven foozies and put Mr. Neuschafer's pitching all to the bad.

Eddie Justice was as busy as a cranberry merchant during the whole matinee. Out of five times up he picked off a couple of singles scored one run, stole a base, had eleven fielding chances and bobbled on just one.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Dolly Stark played short for Brooklyn and had one error in three chances. He figured in a double play. Rucker kept the Quaker hits scattered and won.

Bill Burns had Chicago beaten until the eighth inning when he weakened and Cincinnati lost. Dick Hoblitzel was sent to second base during the game and Mike Mitchell put at first on account of an injury to Egan.

Crandall held Boston to five hits and New York won before the smallest crowd of the season at the polo grounds.

Cree hit for a home run in the game against the Athletics and won for the Highlanders.

Earl Yingling held Indianapolis runless until the ninth when he weakened and two runs resulted. Jerry Freemen landed for three sacks in the tenth and scored the winning run on a single.

"Cy" Young was driven to cover in five innings by Detroit and Koestner, who succeeded him, was hit hard and Cleveland was beaten. Summers was hit a dozen times, but only two runs were scored.

Hall pitched seven innings of the second St. Louis-White Sox game without allowing a run and then was hit hard enough to allow the scoring of four markers that beat him.

Hovlik, a pitcher for Peoria, struck out thirteen men, walked eight and made an error that lost his game.

"Skeeter" Hartman scored the only run made in a game between Quincy and Keokuk.

After Barney Schreiber had been knocked out of the box at Denver his team won a hard battle from Topeka.

Nick Altrock was hit hard by Kansas City in the two first innings and Minneapolis lost.

SMOKER FOR THE BOWLERS.

Preliminary Meeting to Be Held at the Brunswick Alleys.

In order to shape up the teams and do some of the preliminary work toward the organization of the two ten-club leagues at the Brunswick alleys, Owner William McKay will give a smoker Friday evening to which all of the bowlers of the city are invited.

The bowlers will have control and will organize along lines that will take care of the more experienced men as well as those who are breaking in. The owner has the cash entry fees for twenty clubs in his hands and will give two tournaments, arranging the handicap system so that the ordinary bowler will have as good a chance as the good ones.

He has extended an invitation to the shop bowlers, who are talking of organizing, to attend the smoker and see what he has to offer.

M'CARTHY LIKE THE GIRL WITH HER RINGLET

Usually Bunches Errors in One Game and Yesterday Was Awful.

If ever there was a ball player on earth like that little girl of nursery rhyme fame with a ringlet down the middle of her forehead he is Alexander McCarthy, Notre Dame student, whose first year in base ball has been signalized by a jump from class B to the majors, provided that he sticks with Pittsburg and beats Hans Wagner out of a job that he has been holding for some years with considerable eclat to himself and some renown to the city of Carnegie, Pa.

Yesterday Alexander was horrid in the second game of a double bill with the Grand Rapids team and he kicked Harry Lindsay's effort to matriculate in the iron-man degree into the discard by booting four of the eight chances that came his way in the tilt. Along with defeating said Lindsay he gave South Bend a defeat in the last grapple with the humble Stags.

Prof. Cleon Webb got his second defeat of the year in the opening number of the two-piece matinee. The Bronchos tore into his delivery for a total of thirteen bingles with a net output of five runs, while Lindsay was holding the Stags to five hits and one run.

Terre Haute and Evansville baived a double bill in which Billy Cristall had errorless support in the first chapter and beat Pickett, whose chances for a victory were seriously cramped by two fielding bungles injected by the Tot chief.

Frederick Cyclone Alberts and Texas Covington staged a grand hurling duel as the afterpiece and while the Tots got only three hits behind the senior Alberts, they were so placed that they yielded two runs. Alberts was hit four times, but only one run resulted.

Kenworthy was all off color in his mound work against the Stogies and was pummeled for ten hits. In the meantime Willis Humphries was going as steady as a grandfather clock and only two hits were recorded against him.

Sporting News in Tablets

Sheldon Lejeune was sold to Columbus, O., but was subject to draft and the sale did not stand.

Spartanburg, wherever that may be, has signed a player named Maud McAbee.

Roy Keener and Paul Smith, drafted by the White Sox, will finish the season with the Louisville team.

Champ Osteen, who has been out of the game on account of a broken leg, has signed to play next season with Montgomery, Ala.

Bert Annis says that Bert Larsen is about the only member of his present team he will retain next season. He has announced a clean sweep of the Stags for a better ball team in 1911.

King Cole is regarded as the sensation of the two major leagues this season. He has won over 80 per cent of his games and will have to take the heavy part in winning the world's championship along with Brown.

Bert Annis has secured permission to transfer to South Bend the games scheduled today, tomorrow and Friday at Grand Rapids. He thinks he can make more money, or rather lose less, as the clubs go to Evansville and Terre Haute after the series.

"Red" Nelson, Akron pitcher, pounded out a homer with one champion on in the second inning of Labor day afternoon's game with Canton, winning the game, 4 to 1. With the game went the pennant, Canton having tied Akron in the race by winning from Akron in the morning at Canton, 14 to 5. Akron won 73 and lost 53 games, Canton won 73 and lost 54.

It's a pity to spoil a good story but A. G. Spalding & Bros. are running along under the bum steer that Lil Sager has played 1,045 consecutive games in the Central league. With a schedule of 140 games for each of the seven years of the league's existence Sager could have played only as many if he had never been out, but he was derricked at Evansville last season in favor of Dunlap and lost his record. At that he has probably played more consecutive games than any player in baseball.

SAMPLE WINS HOME ON A SEVENTH VENTURE

Aside from Being Versatile He is Shifty—Lemon at Home.

Aside from his versatility Guy Sample, who arrived last night with the Dayton club, for the final series of three games here, probably enjoys the distinction of having been with more clubs this season than any other player in the country as he landed a home with the Vets after he had been with six other clubs to say nothing of one day as an umpire.

He started as manager of the East Liverpool club and played with Akron and Lancaster before he took a try at Chillicothe, where he was behind the bat for several weeks. After he left there Dr. Carson used him as an umpire and then he signed with Zanesville and Terre Haute and finally landed with the Vets where he has won a home. He could have made another shift as Fort Wayne tried to land him after he had played a few games with Knoll's team but was held and will finish the season as Tim O'Brien is out of the game for the year.

Jimmy Whacker and O'Brien did not accompany the team here as there are only three scheduled games four pitchers were brought along in Ed Asher, Walter Justus, Archie Neuschafer and Cy Clyde. Asher was picked to pitch the first game. Clyde will probably follow and Justus will go in the final game if the program is carried out.

Manager Knoll says it was a purely business proposition with him in protesting the transfer of the two Grand Rapids games here and is of opinion that it gave Fort Wayne too great an advantage in the race for second place which he is trying hard to land. He says with a little luck he will get it.

He also stated that so far as he knows now he will be the leader of the Dayton club next season. He will spend the winter at his home in Evansville.

Lee Lemon has recovered from the effects of the blow he got at Dayton but was called to his home at Anderson Monday night by the illness of his wife. He said that he would report as soon as possible and Manager Jimmy Burke expected him home during the day in time for the afternoon game. Ed Pfeffer was slated for the first fight with the Vets and Miller will follow him unless it is decided to use Charlie Alberts in the second game in which event Miller will pitch the third.

The club came in early this morning on the same train with the Dayton players. Eight games more on the local lot will wind up the season here.

HAD BEEN MOST EVERY PLACE

It will be recalled that Fred Heller, bought by Wheeling last season from one of the New York teams, was with a number of clubs in the Central league, the Ohio State league and the O.-P. before the year closed. He played pretty fair ball in the Central, but did not happen to be up to the standard and was used only when injury crippled one of the clubs.

"One day," said Earl Sykes, who was with Lima last season, "we were playing a dopey sort of a game in which nobody had much to say. There was no ginger in any of the players and they were working along sort of slow when Heller came to the bat.

"The crowd didn't have any more pepper than the players and there was no rooting and very little noise of any kind. It was hot and ball playing was hard work at best and nobody had life enough to yell on the coaching lines.

"When Heller walked up some fellow way up in the top of the stands yelled out just like he was calling a train in a depot waiting room: 'New York, Wheeling, Dayton, Canton, Zanesville, Lancaster—where the —— ain't you been anyhow, this season?'"

SOCIAL TONIGHT

The social of the Emanuel's Young People's society, postponed on account of rain will be given at the school yard, corner Jefferson and Union streets this evening.

The Allen County Medical society held its first meeting of the season last evening. A warm discussion resulted over the proposed endorsement of the resolution of the city council providing that the city board of health shall regulate the treatment of the women of the under world. No action was taken.

"Cy" Alberts to Try Out With the Cards This Year

Frederick "Cyclone" Alberts, who is practically a Fort Wayne baseball player because he started his professional career as a member of the city's first Central league club, married a Fort Wayne girl, has a home here and puts in the winter months in the local railroad shops, is to have a fling at fast company this fall as a member of Roger Bresnahan's Cardinals.

He pitched his last game as a member of the Terre Haute team in the matinee half of the Labor day bill and closed his career in the organization with a telling piece of hurling when he struck out Buck Connors and "Hans" Hadley, of the Evansville troupe, with Jack Snyder on second base, waiting for a hit that would have tied the score if either of these batsmen had been able to produce.

Tuesday morning President Louis D. Smith received a message from Manager Bresnahan, asking him to let Alberts, who was purchased during the summer, report at once as he was badly in need of pitchers. The consent was given although the Tot staff was badly crippled by the action.

Alberts had one score to settle before he left and he asked Manager Cuppy Groeschow to allow him to pitch the second game on Monday. He evened up with a sensational finish and trimmed the Evansville crowd, 1 to 0. This was rather a peculiar feat for the reason that his sole object in going into the box was to get revenge for three victories that Evansville had taken off him by exactly the same score. During the game he was hit twice safely and a scratch was chucked in for good measure.

Probably no player who will go to the big tent this season will carry more good wishes than "Cy" Alberts. He has always been a conscientious worker who has saved his earnings, taken good care of himself, has been ready at all times to give his best services to his club and this has made him popular with the fans.

During his stay in the Central league he was on the pitching staffs of the Fort Wayne, Canton, Springfield, South Bend and Grand Rapids clubs and he added some local glory to his career by pitching most of a season for Mart Cleary and his Shamrocks.

The National league season has a month or more to run and in that time Alberts will be able to demonstrate whether or not he is of major league calibre. Roger Bresnahan is badly in need of pitchers and will give "the cyclone" a thorough chance to make good.

Pennsylvania Preparing for Fall and Winter Business.

CHARLES NOIS IS KILLED AT DELPHOS

Employe of Switch and Signal Company Struck by Train.

Another class of brakemen and firemen is being examined in the book of rules at the Pennsylvania offices this afternoon and when they emerge from the examining quarters they will be full fledged conductors and engineers. The brakemen are J. Berner, A. J. Raines, M. Maguire, I. P. Dirr, F. H. Eme, F. C. Gustenslager, E. B. Shrider, S. Eichenschere, C. E. Kline, H. P. Powlisch and S. Rogers and the firemen are Samuel Williams, W. L. Hoy, R. E. Elliott, P. Kelliher, S. A. Esterline, E. F. Hoffman, W. Dannmeyer and D. D. Miller. These men have passed through the tests on the road and there is no reason why they should not pass the book of rules examination. As soon as these new engineers have been thoroughly instructed in running freight trains, Messrs. R. J. Lyons, J. H. Hanna and O. E. Maxwell, the assistant road foremen of engines, will prepare another class for promotion. The personnel of this class will be P. Broderick, M. Lager, B. E. Flowers, R. R. Farries, F. M. Martin and J. J. Hake, who are now firing freight preparatory to the examinations for promotion. Two yard firemen, R. B. Ferguson, of the Lima yards, and J. A. Mooney, of the Fort Wayne yards, are also preparing for the examinations, which will result in their promotion. These promotions are the result of heavy business on the road and the need of more engine and train crews.

KILLED AT DELPHOS.

Pennsylvania Manhattan Limited Strikes C. Nois.

Charles Nois was picked up by the engine pulling the Pennsylvania Manhattan limited at Delphos, Ohio, yesterday afternoon and hurled sixty feet, killing him instantly. The train, which does not stop at that station, was running fifty miles an hour when it struck the man. Charles Nois was employed at construction work by the Union Switch and Signal company, which has the contract for installing the alternating block signal system on the Western division of the Pennsylvania. Nois was unmarried, was forty-two years old and resided at Mondamin, Iowa. The remains were turned over to the coroner and are being held for instructions as to disposal from the relatives. It is said that Nois was at work on the tracks and did not see the train approaching.

FIFTY NAMES TO ROLL.

B. R. T. No. 136 Concludes Membership Campaign.

As a result of the membership campaign that has been in progress for several weeks and which came to a close last night, the membership roll of Fort Wayne lodge, No. 136, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, has fifty new names. The initiations of this class began Sunday and were carried through three days to accommodate all applicants without interfering with their work on the road, which is quite heavy at present. The local order has the best degree team in the country and the initiatory work was quite interesting to those permitted to view it. The meeting last night closed with a smoker and some speeches by men of prominence in the ranks.

FILED BIG MORTGAGE.

Yesterday in all the counties in Indiana through which run the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad of Indiana, recently acquired by the C. & O. railroad system was filed a mortgage in the sum of $40,000,000 covering all the property of the line, in favor of the Mercantile Trust company, of New York. The mortgage secures the issuance of a gold bond bearing 5 per cent. The mortgage covers seventy pages and it specifies that the money is to be used largely in building depots, elevators and making other improvements. President George W. Stevens says that the company is now spending $1,000,000 between Cincinnati and Peru and will soon expend a similar sum on the line between Peru and Chicago.

NEW BRIDGE OVER OHIO.

As a result of differences over the division of coal freight, the friendly feeling which has prevailed between the C. H. & D. and C. & O. for a number of years is threatened with disruption. The Chesapeake and Ohio owns a bridge over the Ohio river at Ironton, which the C. H. & D. has been using. With the building of the new bridge, the C. H. & D. will extend its line about 200 miles into the coal fields of Kentucky and ship the fuel into Ohio and Indiana.

ENCAMPMENT RATES HIGH.

Local ticket agents are in the receipt of "encampment" literature, including rates to the annual meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic in Atlantic City the latter part of the month. The rates are a disappointment to many, who looked for a cent a mile rate. A rate of $24.40, including stop-over privileges, is announced from Fort Wayne.

ployment by Mr. Reed as bottle-washer and errand boy in the drug-store, and this marked his entry into the drug trade and the beginning of a long and honorable career in that line of merchandizing.

He worked early and late and soon mastered the business to such an extent that in 1853 he became a partner in the drug house of Wall & Meyer.

This was the humble beginning of the great Meyer drug business. In 1862 the firm, then located on East Columbia street, suffered a total loss of its store by fire, but within a short time was again in business with a new stock of goods that had been started from New York to Fort Wayne two days after the fire. In 1865 the store was moved to a site near the location of its present Calhoun and Columbia street store, and in the same year began the development of the wholesale drug business by the establishing of a branch at St. Louis, operated under the firm name of Meyer Bros. & Co. Later other houses were established at Kansas City and Dallas, and the firm grew to be one of the largest wholesale drug concerns in America, a rank which it still retains today. Some years ago it was incorporated as the Meyer Bros. Drug company, and Mr. Meyer was elected its president. He retained his interests in the wholesale business down to the day of his death, though in recent years had confined his attention almost entirely to the Fort Wayne business.

Chain of Stores Here.

Some years ago the retail business in Fort Wayne was entirely divorced from the western interests of the firm and was incorporated as Meyer Bros. & Co., admitting as stockholders many of the men who had long been with the firm as employes. Mr. Meyer was elected president of the company, and the business has grown to such an extent that the company is now operating four handsome retail drug stores in Fort Wayne. During his more than sixty years of business in Fort Wayne Mr. Meyer has taught the drug business to a large number of men who have been in his employ, and scores of successful druggists in Fort Wayne and elsewhere today will proudly declare that no small portion of credit for their success is due to the training, commercially and morally received at the veteran druggist's hands.

Mr. Meyer was a man of the loftiest integrity and the most scrupulous honesty, with exalted ideals of citizenship, a kindly charm of manner and a broad and generous nature that made every acquaintance his devoted friend. He sought to be helpful to others and his charity was boundless. In his nature were blended to a remarkable degree the admirable traits of the very highest type of American citizenship.

Was Devoted Churchman.

The veteran druggist was a devoted churchman. For many years, while a resident of the old Meyer homestead on Washington boulevard west, now the home of the Knights of Pythias, Mr. Meyer was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church. When Emmaus Lutheran church was established something more than ten years ago, his membership was transferred to the southside congregation. He was deeply interested in the affairs of the church, and until the present year, when his enfeebled condition prevented, he had been an unfailing attendant upon the sessions of the Missouri synod of the Lutheran church.

Another institution that enlisted Mr. Meyer's kindly interest was the Allen County Orphans' home, and since the foundation of that organization he had served upon its board of trustees continuously. He was for many years a trustee of Hope hospital, and also served as a member of the city council and as a member of the board of waterworks trustees.

Mr. Meyer was twice married, his first union having been to Miss Caroline Schroeder in 1851, at a time when Mr. Meyer amusingly recalled he was earning a salary of but $15 per month. Mrs. Meyer's death occurred in 1859, and in the following year he was united in marriage to Miss Julia Gerke in the blissful union which death has now severed after more than fifty years. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Rehns, then an assistant pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church in this city, and it was the first marriage ceremony at which the young man officiated.

Celebrated Golden Wedding.

On May 22 last, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer celebrated at their home in this city the golden anniversary of their marriage. It was a happy gathering, attended by their children and a company of close friends who attested their love and esteem for the aged couple who had completed fifty years of wedded life. Mrs. Meyer survives together with the following children: Mrs. G. F. Burkhardt, of Boston; F. G. Meyer, of New York; William L. Meyer, of St. Louis; Mrs. John M. Landenberger and Mrs. William Paul, of this city; Theodore G. Meyer, of St. Louis, and Mrs. G. C. Strieder, of Chicago. There are sixteen grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

NOTED ARTIST IS DEAD.

William Holman-Hunt Passes Away in England at Age of 83.

London, Sept. 7.—William Holman-Hunt, the artist, died this morning. Holman-Hunt, who was 83 years old and the only survivor of the distinguished group of three painters who became notable as the founders of the so-called pre-Raphaelite movement, had not been in good health for many months. A year ago he was seriously ill but recovered. He was born in London in 1827 and exhibited his first picture in 1846. He was one of the first members of the Order of Merit. Among his best known works were "The Light of the World," "The Savior in the Temple," "The Shadow of Death" and "The Triumph of the Innocents."

CUPID CAUSES HOTEL TO CLOSE.

Bachelors Wed Girl Employes as Fast as Proprietor Hires Them.

Trempealeau, Wis., Sept. 7.—The Hotel Utter, a leading hostelry of this place, announces its indefinite suspension of business, and gives as a reason that all the girls who can be hired get married almost immediately, leaving the proprietor without assistance. The village has many unmarried men, and, it is charged, the instant a girl employe has acquired the art of cooking and housekeeping she is "snapped up" by one of the dozens of waiting bachelors.

DECEMBER 15TH TO 20TH.

Date of Poultry Show Chosen—Comparison Scoring System.

December 15th to 20th were chosen as the dates for the big show which the Allen County Farmers' Poultry association is planning to put on this year. The meeting was held last night and among other things transacted was the adoption of the comparison system of scoring, rather than by score cards. This new way is the method being adopted in all the larger shows.

The winners will have their cards by the very first evening, and this will be another big advantage as several days of the show have heretofore always been consumed by the judges. A. F. Hummer, of Pennsylvania, a judge of national reputation, has been engaged for the local show.

W. D. Holderman, H. F. Kennerk and Philip Koehlinger comprise a committee to select a place for the show and Mr. Koehlinger and W. H. Didier are on the advertising committee.

IN FEAR OF FEMALE BANDIT.

Covington, La., Sept. 7.—All houses in the northwestern part of this parish have their doors locked and windows battened at the approach of nightfall, as the inhabitants are all terror-stricken over the exploits of a woman highway robber. It is alleged that a burly woman has held up at the point of a revolver and robbed several men in the vicinity of Onvil and Red Bluff during the past two weeks.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 7.—With the stock of wheat here piling up and with liberal arrivals expected in the northwest, the market took a bearish cast today. Nearly all the local speculators were short, or were in position to enlist on the selling side. Lower quotations at Liverpool acted also against the bulls. The opening here was unchanged to ⅝c down. December started at $1.01 to $1.01⅛, sold at $1.00⅞ and reacted to $1.01⅛.

Fine weather made corn easy. December opened unchanged to ¼c to ⅜c off at 55¼c to 55½c, rallied to 55½@55⅝c and fell back to 55⅜@55½c.

Increasing supplies of oats led to scattered commission selling of that cereal. December started ⅛c to ¼c down at 35⅜c to 35½c and declined to 35¼c.

Poor support allowed hog products to decline. First sales were at unchanged prices to 12½c less with the October option at $20.55 for pork, $13.22½ for lard and $11.85 for ribs. Further recessions all around ensued.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Sept. 7.—The tendency of opening prices of stocks today was to a lower level. A rise of ¾ in Baltimore & Ohio was the only important exception. Reading declined 1½. Union Pacific and St. Paul 1, and Atchison, New York Central, United States Steel and Anaconda large fractions. The market was narrow and professional.

The depression was overcome as a slow recovery brought the list up to near where it left off yesterday. Bethlehem Steel sagged 2¼ and Northern Pacific, Rock Island preferred, Sloss-Sheffield Steel 1 before the rally became effective.

Professional traders in stocks looked for some effect from the Vermont election news, but they bought to cover short sales when no effect was forthcoming. Improving crop prospects helped a recovery. Animation went out of the market as prices rose. Mackay Companies gained 1%, American Hide and Leather preferred fell 1. Bonds were steady.

The bottom dropped out of the market for American Hide and Leather preferred on the publication of the unfavorable annual report. Sales were made from ⅛ to 2 points apart, driving it 6 points under yesterday's closing. Other stocks meanwhile advanced. Union Pacific, St. Paul, Southern Pacific, Reading and U. S. Steel rising fractionally above last night's closing and Wabash preferred, American Beet Sugar and Pittsburg Coal 1.

Another drop by Hide and Leather preferred followed a rally of 1½ and it broke 2¾, a loss of 8 points. The general market weakened, Union Pacific and Reading reacting about a point. Active stocks were supported later and rallied sharply. Central Leather declined 1¼ and American Smelting and American Hide and Leather 1.

The market closed strong and dull. Prices became motionless for a time when they had recovered to the top level. Mackay Companies gained 3½. Baltimore & Ohio 2, Pacific Mail 1⅜ and Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Atchison, Canadian Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio 1. The advance was resumed in the final dealings.

SEEKING LOCAL CAPITAL.

Illinois Man Has Machine for Killing Potato Bugs.

Seeking encouragement from local capitalists, M. Harmon, of Bloomington, Ill., is spending several days in Fort Wayne displaying his potato bug killer. Mr. Harmon's machine consists of five fans that brush over the vines, sweeping the bugs into a basket where they are killed. The device has been pronounced practical by a good many and, if so, would surely be a great aid to the farmer. He may succeed in organizing a company here.

WAS STUDENT OF SOCIOLOGY.

Supposed Workingman Who Was Killed Had Wealth.

Sterling, Colo., Sept. 7.—That Frank Nichols, of Momence, Ill., a member of a crew of painters at work on the Burlington road house, was not the humble craftsman he pretended to be but a wealthy man studying sociological problems, came to light yesterday through a search of the man's effects as he had been killed by a fall from a ladder on which he was at work.

Among his possessions were deeds of valuable Chicago real estate, mining property in the Dakotas and stock in various railroads, aggregating over $50,000 in value.

Nichols had been a member of the painting crew for several months. The body will be sent to relatives in Momence.

Happy, Happy, Use TIZ

A Marvel For Sore Feet. Acts Right Off.

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—

Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet. Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

SCRAP THE PLANT.

[From Public Service.]

The city of Crawfordsville, Ind., has been advised to "scrap" its entire municipal lighting plant. This course is recommended seriously by Prof. J. W. Esterline, of Purdue university, who is recognized as an authority on engineering and was engaged by the city to make a careful examination of the Crawfordsville plant with a view to its rehabilitation. In his report Professor Esterline stated to the city officers that the condition of the plant was so bad as to make reconstruction impossible, and recommended that the entire property be abandoned and a new plant constructed. He estimates the cost of a new place at $93,000.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

The New Harmon Lunch Room will open for business Thursday at 11 o'clock, 1422 Calhoun St. 6-2t.

BREAKING OUT ALL OVER BODY

Itched Dreadfully. When Scratched it would Bleed and Become Very Sore. Could Scarcely Sleep as the Itching was Worse at Night. Dreaded Putting Hands in Water.

Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment 3 Weeks. Trouble all Disappeared.

"Some time ago I had a breaking out all over my body. It first started like what we call goose flesh and itched dreadfully. When I scratched it, it would bleed and become very sore. I tried almost everything for the itching but none gave me much relief. I could scarcely sleep as the itching was always worse at night. My hands were so sore I dreaded putting them in water and after I would wash dishes or do laundry work that required the use of other soaps they were always worse. This went on for about six months. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and in two or three weeks the trouble all disappeared. I always found that my hands were worse (with a dry scale on them) after using any cheap soap but the Cuticura Soap produced such a soothing feeling on my skin that it was a pleasure to use it. I also know what wonders the Cuticura Remedies have done for a friend of mine, so I would recommend them to any one. Mrs. Delaware Barrett, 611 King St., Wilmington, Del., Nov. 15, 1909."

Cuticura Remedies sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston. Mailed free, 32-page book on Skin Diseases.
